

A VISIT TO CAREY, OHIO

Charles H. Bogart

As we headed up the road from Marion, Ohio, with a group of railfans for Fostoria, Ohio, and the Iron Triangle on Sunday, Mary Ann and I broke off from the pack to visit Carey, Ohio. Here is located the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway Yard, a CSXT Rail Yard, and the National Lime & Stone Company with their industrial critters. First stop in Carey was the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad Yard where we found two sets of power tied down. There was also present a few hundred empty stone carrying hopper cars, one of which was painted pink for breast cancer awareness. We also found two National Lime & Stone Company industrial critters on their property. CSXT had no power tied down in their yard but we did take time to document C Cabin.
